

Invited Speaker

Assoc. Prof. Dr. Shinji Tamura
Osaka University, Japan

Shinji Tamura received his B. Eng. degree (1996), M. Eng. degree (1999), and Ph. D. degree (2001) in Osaka University, Japan. He joined the faculty of Engineering, Osaka University from 2001 as a Postdoctoral Fellow (2001-2004) and an Assistant Professor (2004-2015). From 2015, he is an Associate Professor at Osaka University. His research fields are the functional inorganic materials, mainly solid electrolytes and chemical sensors (gas). Until now, he has published more than 120 peer-review articles in these research fields.